

ROOSEVELT PESSED YESTERDAY

No Operation Attempted As Yet To Remove The Bullet.

MANY TELEGRAMS OF CONDOLENCE

Would-Be Assassin Not To Be Tried Till After Election.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.
Chicago, Oct. 15.—Theodore Roosevelt was not merely superficially wounded by the bullet fired at him yesterday in Milwaukee. The wound was determined to be a serious one in the chest and "not a mere flesh wound."
The late bulletin prohibited communication between the colonel and others than his attendants, declared that "quietude is absolutely essential."
The surgeons asserted, however, that it was not yet necessary to operate for the bullet, and the patient will probably be kept as calm as his nature will allow him for several days.
The patient slept well at intervals during the day, ate ravenously of articles of food, and showed no signs of fatigue, read lengthy extracts from classical writers and listened to his physicians that he would not object to lie in the fresh air.
The New Newspaper Men.
Finally, learning that the correspondents accompanying him on his speaking tour, who had left him after the assault to return to their homes, the hospital, Col. Roosevelt insisted that the editor of his physicians assume communication with the press for the time.
The wounded newspaper men, with an apology for not arriving, tested with them about his condition and told them, "I'll hurry up and get out of here so I can keep you guys again."
In coming the door to his room to admit the correspondents the heavy door of his room opened, and the colonel's apartment and he inhaled deeply several times. The extra effort to open the door, however, and when the door was shut again, he inhaled his nose to present the door to the door to other patients in the hospital.

Watch for Infection.
The doctors did not feel inclined to allow him to leave his room for ten days, so that he might have no more of their medical attention, but watch for possible infection from the bullet. It is, as shown by the X-ray photographs, a bullet which has entered the chest, and is now in the lungs. It is, as shown by the X-ray, a bullet which has entered the chest, and is now in the lungs. A MURDEROUS TYRANT.

A crank in Milwaukee shot Colonel Roosevelt, fortunately not with the fatal results he intended. He is said to be mentally unbalanced, an inference which might be reasonably drawn from his action. The motive for his crime appears to be that he considers the Colonel a candidate for a third term in the White House, and is opposed to the third term as tending to "tyranny." What he and his kind do not see is that in taking their murderous method of ending or avoiding tyranny they make themselves tyrants. It ought to be clear to a disordered mind that Mr. Roosevelt cannot become President again unless a majority of the electors of the Republic desire it. The would-be assassin set himself up as a minority of one claiming the right to say that the majority in the Republic should not have the chance of choosing Mr. Roosevelt if they want to. By his own standard that a would-be dictator should be punished with death, the Colonel's assassin should go to the gallows. The political outcome of his crime will probably be to help rather than to injure the victim of his bullet.

AN UNWELCOME GUEST.

Edmonton, like other cities, is experiencing an unwelcome visit from the typhus germ. The local source of this dangerous microbe is as yet something of a mystery. The doctors tell us, however, that at this season of the year the tendency of the disease is to decrease, and if those suffering from it are so treated as to prevent the direct spread of the infection conveyed by flies during the hot period of the year, as the germs require several weeks in which to bring their victim down. It is reasonable to suppose that many of the cases now being reported were contracted some weeks since, and as the fly season is now pretty well over the danger of contagion being spread by this means is practically at an end. The immediate thing is to array all the resources of the medical and nursing professions for the proper treatment of the present sufferers. Then the health officials should vigorously pursue the investigation of the source of the outbreak, and with the co-operation of the commissioners and council take such measures as will leave less opportunity for mischief next summer.

BRITAIN'S FOOD SUPPLY.

To those who have supposed Great Britain to be a manufacturing country only, and prone to depend for its food supply on the outer world, it will be surprising to learn from recent figures of the Board of Agriculture, that nearly one-half the food supply of the country is grown in the British Isles. This figure applies to bulk, the value of the home-grown food being far in excess of that of the portion drawn from abroad. The English farmer grows what brings the most money in return for the capital and labor involved, leaving the farmers of other lands to supply the cheaper classes of products. Of the wheat requirements of the Old Lands the farmer in Great Britain supplies 20 per cent. Of the balance, India supplies 14 per cent, Canada 13 per cent, Australia 10 per cent, and other British possessions 5 per cent, a total of nearly 60 per cent, thus coming from British sources. It is evident enough from this that a British tariff against foreign wheat would not make the Canadian grain grower rich. Of the 40 per cent imported, the Argentine Republic—which has been financed by British capital almost exclusively—supplies more than 10 per cent. Britain is not, therefore, likely in any event to put a tax on wheat from the Argentine, and without putting a tariff against wheat from the Argentine she could not impose a duty on wheat from other foreign countries. Those in Canada who are trying to make the farmer think that Great Britain is about to impose a tariff against all other wheat than his are deluding either themselves or the farmer. They are equally in error in claiming that such tariff would do the Canadian farmer noticeable good.

RATE REGULATION.

The general manager of the C.N.R. system is reported as telling the Railway Commission that his company could not stand a cut in the freight rates, as this would wipe out the dividend paying power of the system. Mr. Haas may have been reciting cold facts, or he may have been taking a pessimistic view of the situation in hope of making a point against the demand for rate reduction. In either event, he brought the question of freight rates down to the proper basis upon which it should be considered; the earning power of the railways. Upon that basis of earning power, the rates should be adjusted as to give the public railway service at reasonable cost and the companies which supply the service a reasonable reward for their enterprise, capital and ability. Regulating rates on the hit and miss method is liable to err either on the side of leniency or the side of severity. And if it errs on either side the public suffer. If the rates are left higher than necessary to provide a fair return, the public are unduly taxed for the service rendered. If they are cut down to a point which destroys the earning power of the railways, investment in Canadian railway securities will be discouraged, proper railway development paralyzed, and the public left without needed transportation facilities. The public need railways, and those who supply the need are entitled to a fair—even a generous—return for the employment of their energies and capital. The only way to do justice to both parties is to adjust rates so that in the opinion of experts they will leave the companies a fair yield from the investment, but not an exorbitant yield. That can only be done by taking into consideration the amount of capital on which the companies have to earn dividends, and by preventing them from increasing this capital by issuing stock which is not fairly represented by railway or equipment. To adjust Canadian rates merely by the standard of United States rates is only guess work, for the rates in the United States are more or less fixed by the dividend requirements of watered stock. The Railway Commission will have to get away from the comparison habit if rates are to be effectively regulated, and deal with them in a business way.

THE LATEST.

The Calgary Herald and the Moose Jaw News have between them found out what all this Western country, and what must be done to cure it. Briefly, the ailment is that hitherto the Government has not paid a bounty for the manufacture of flour; the remedy, that parties willing to start new flour mills in the West should be subsidized from the pockets of the tax-payers. This proposal might from its nature be thought unlikely to gain much attention, and much less likely to be taken up in responsible quarters and put under way as a something seriously urged upon the Government. The Toronto News, however, has approved the proposal, bestowed its editorial blessing upon the authors, and introduced the subject to the attention of those who shape the fiscal policy of the country at this day and date. We may regard it, therefore, as one of the things definitely on the program of the "interests," and liable to be carried out if the Government can be persuaded to run the risk of doing it.

There are one or two preliminary observations which will strike most readers in this connection. One is that the flour-milling business in Western Canada seems to have been getting along pretty well without any bonus. Our millers are turning out a most excellent quality of flour, in larger quantity every year, and seem to be in the way of building up a very large and decidedly flourishing industry. In fact, in comparison with other lines of manufacture the enterprise of the Western flour-millers has left their contemporaries far in the rear. The flour-milling industry is not only the biggest manufacturing industry in Western Canada, but incomparably the biggest. It has been built up without any bonus from the public treasury, and does not appear to be in need of any. Neither does it seem quite the thing that after the pioneers in this line of enterprise have, by their own industry, hard work and money, built up a large and prosperous business that the Government should step in and subsidize promoters to start new mills in competition with them. Such, however, is the latest proposal of the newspapers whose unhappy lot is to try to find a counterproposal for the larger market denied the Western wheat-grower. What chemical suggestion will come from that quarter next there is no telling.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Everybody Was There.

Toronto Globe—The Mail says that pickpockets are following the Laurier meetings. "Dips" as that journal rather familiarly describes them, will find occupation where there are crowds and prosperous crowds at that.

Turkey's Advantage.

Toronto Globe—Montenegro and Turkey are at war, and the war has already begun with a spirited frontier movement. In 1877, as everyone knows, with liberal truth, of that "amalgam" among people having "master back" the swarm of Turkish Islam for four hundred years. Though Turkey was more powerful a few centuries ago than she is today, Montenegro would collapse now within a few weeks under the assaults of a modern Turkish army if the two were left to fight to a finish without the intervention of other powers.

There is good reason to believe that Turkey would be more than a match for the whole four states: Bulgaria, Serbia and Greece along with Montenegro. Her resistance in the Russo-Turkish war of 1877-78 proved her military capacity to be exceptional. Moreover, she has Turkey in Asia, swarming with fanatic Mohammedans, from which to draw enthusiastic reinforcements, while the four hostile states have to put all their soldiers on the fighting line at the outset.

Most Regrettable.

Toronto Star—An incident of a most regrettable kind and one which the Toronto News and all titled persons in Canada and all who aspire to titles or who reverse them will hear of with deep regret, occurred the other day at Budapest. Count Karoly Esterhazy had been enjoying the baths and was returning to his dressing room when he collided with a person, also undressed. The Count, knowing that he was a Count, promptly slapped the person's face (just like that), and the person, not knowing that the Count was a Count, nabbed him one for keeps with such effect that the Count was projected, backwards, a glass door and had to be removed to the hospital. The person who struck the blow is a Magyar, in fact the thirty-third son of a man who is called the dypsy King. It matters little that the offender was horrified when he learned that he had swatted a Count, an Esterhazy. The deed could not be undone, the Count could not be unswatted. When next our Canadian kinsfolk convene to make a night of it, they will doubtless agree that this regrettable episode was entirely due to the fact that Count Esterhazy took his title off when he went to bathing. Undressed he looked like—or rather let us say that he did not look like anybody in particular. When a dypsy person slapped the dypsy's face how was the dypsy to know that by striking back he would shock society from St. Petersburg to Saskatoon, and pale every face in the York club in Toronto.

BEAUTIFUL HOUSE

On a view lot, two blocks from the silver Saskatchewan in Garneau Estate and only three blocks from the High Level Bridge. Here is a residence that is particularly admirable in all its appointments and one that should make the investor two thousand dollars upon completion of the bridge. It is only one-half block from Saskatchewan Boulevard, the prettiest drive in the city and only one-half block from University Ave., a paved street. Three nice large sleeping rooms with sleeping porch and a nice big living room with pretty ornamental fireplace; nice dining room and nicely arranged kitchen and pantry; full basement with outside entrance to same; soft water, bank, concrete floor, guaranteed furnace.

Big bargain at $6500; full lot; easy cash payment and balance over five years.

ROOSEVELT'S WOUND IS FOUR INCHES DEEP

Is Now In Mercy Hospital In Chicago, Where He Will Remain Ten Days.

PHYSICIANS DECLARE HIS ACTION IMPRUDENT

In Insisting on Speaking In Milwaukee After Having Been Shot.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—The following official statement was issued at 10.30 a.m. by the surgeons attending Colonel Roosevelt:

"Col. Roosevelt's hurt is a deep bullet wound of the chest wall, without striking any vital organ in transit. The wound was not proved. The point of entrance was to the right of, and one inch below the level of the right nipple. The course of the bullet was upward and forward a distance of four inches, deeply in the chest wall. There was no evidence of the bullet penetrating the chest wall. Pulse 90, temperature 98.5, respiration 20. No operation to remove the bullet is indicated at the present time. Condition hopeful, but would be important as to demand absolute rest for a number of days."

Placed Under X Rays.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 15.—Colonel Roosevelt, with a bullet still in his chest, fired by John Schrank, at Milwaukee, was taken to Mercy hospital here this morning after a consultation of physicians, who ordered a second X-ray examination.

It was planned at first to allow the patient to rest in a special car in a quiet part of the railway yards, but after he had been seen by Dr. J. B. Murphy, the plan was vetoed, and he was hurried away in an ambulance.

TURKISH TROOPS MOBILIZING—The gathering of the soldiers of the Sultan to go in the frontier to defend the boundaries against the Balkan states.

The Colonel had declared that he would not enter the ambulance, but would ride in an automobile and would walk to and from the vehicle.

Pending the examination the physician would not make a diagnosis of the case, but speed and anxiety to get him at once in the hospital, were the order of proceedings after the physicians consulted. Col. Roosevelt walked to the ambulance strapped in an army overcoat, and at once lay down on a couch prepared for him.

Slept on Way to Chicago. Col. Roosevelt kept during the trip from Milwaukee after he was shot. Refusal to exceed the delivery of an hour and a half address and walk to and from the ambulance all the time with the bullet still in the deep wound in his right breast were regarded by the physicians as imprudent in the extreme, but the Colonel insisted upon having his own way and minimized the danger and pain of his wound.

WOUND WILL PREVENT ROOSEVELT FROM CONTINUING HIS CAMPAIGN.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Col. Roosevelt will do no more campaigning this year. The positive announcement that the injury to the right breast prevented the remainder of the campaign was made today at Mercy hospital. As soon as he is able to leave Chicago, Col. Roosevelt will be taken to Oyster bay. He will remain at home there until he is well and will take no active part in the campaign. Surgeons at the hospital here were emphatic in telling Col. Roosevelt that to assure his complete recovery he would have to remain quiet for several weeks and the Colonel reluctantly agreed.

Blood-soaked garments and bullet-plattered eye-glasses and a bundle of papers were the chief evidence on the train that he had been wounded.

Dr. Terrell, Roosevelt's personal physician, gave out a statement as to the patient's condition soon after Col. Roosevelt had had his preliminary examination at the Mercy hospital.

WEST WANTS MARKETS SAYS ELEVATOR MAN

No Competition With Winnipeg Market in Case of Low Grain Prices, Is Opinion of John Gillespie, Manager of Gillespie Elevator.

"What the West needs is additional markets for her grain," said John Gillespie, the manager of the Gillespie Elevator Company, when seen by a Bulletin representative in regard to the grain situation yesterday. "The trouble is that we have only one market, that is in Winnipeg, which rules the price of wheat for the entire crop of Western Canada. In the States there are several markets and a man can ship to Minneapolis, Duluth, New York or Chicago, according to how the prices are in any of those four markets. In Western Canada we can only ship to Winnipeg for quotations and we have no alternative."

Some people are ready to blame the elevator for the clean-up of the grain crop in the West, but anyone who studied the situation can see that the railways are unable to handle it in anything like the time that is left before particular crops. Most anybody imagines that the three railways with their trucks, trucks and rail cars, haul the wheat of Western Canada's wheat crop, as well as look after all their other traffic."

At the present time the railways have cut about as much wheat as they can handle out of recent crops, leaving out of account the grain crop of all countries. All summer the freight traffic between Edmonton and Calgary has been congested, and yet other cities have very similar things exist. Why should the railways carry the wheat of the West crop?

When Grain Goes West.

Some relief would probably be afforded by the opening of the new line to the coast, the C.P.R. and the C.N.R. through to the East, but different arrangements for the handling of wheat would have to be made at the coast terminals. Grain shipped to the coast would have to be put in time in all bags, but it would have to be handled in bulk if any large portion of the western wheat crop was shipped that way. Peas and beans would be handled in bulk, but it would not be suitable for the grain, on account of the heat, but it would think that that would effect the grain so long as it was shipped in good condition. Wheat shipped from South America and Australia had to cross the equator and was not affected. If the opening of the line through Edmonton to the coast directed a large amount of the western wheat traffic, so that it was shipped west, instead of east, other grain markets might spring up in the West. Edmonton would, no doubt, become a central shipping point for farmers along the G.T.P. and C.N.R. main and branch lines.

Storage of Threshers.

The grain movement is slower than at this time last year, owing to the fact that there is a shortage of men required for threshing. Some outfits were not working at all, because it was impossible to get the men to keep them running steadily. Some threshers, who owned two outfits, could not keep more than one working. The fact that the grain was only moving slowly was responsible for the fact that no serious shortage of grain had been felt up to now, but about the middle of November there would be a good deal of shouting for cars.

Lines at Full Capacity.

At the C.N.R. offices a Bulletin representative learned that not much grain has been shipped from around Edmonton so far. The bulk of the shipments taking place on the C.N.R. were to the Hamilton district and east.

What is stated that the supply of cars had so far been equal to the demand, it was admitted by C.N.R. officials that traffic on their lines was very busy and that it would be impossible to handle much more than the present weight of freight traffic. "Still there is no blockade as yet."

Hints on Ear-rings.

From time immemorial ear-rings have formed the finish to a woman's dress. But it is an extraordinary fact that but one woman in a hundred knows how to suit herself in the wearing of this graceful ornament.

A girl with a round, chubby face all too invariably wears the variety known as "muds," preferably in no large, also as possible. This, of course, accentuates her facial features. Whereas the girl who possesses a fine oval countenance, balanced on a "hanger" of more than ordinary length, thereby adding at least a couple of inches to her length of face. Of course, these two damsels, to do to best advantage, ought to change places. She of the round face, by all the written and unwritten laws of "suitability," should wear "drops," and her longer-visaged sister "muds."

That ear-rings are only dress accessories should always be kept in mind by the well-dressed girl. They should never be ostentatious or garish, and should, if possible, tone with the color of the "water's" dress and other ornaments.

Also, there is a type of girl to whose ear-rings add at least ten years. Every girl should make it her duty to discover if they have such an effect upon her; if so, she ought to make it a rule never to wear them, however much tempted.

Your Brain Is a Battery

Its thoughts are the sparks that set Success in motion

The simplest form of battery requires three factors to make the electric spark—zinc, copper and an acid.

The human brain also requires three vital elements to put forth THOUGHT—water, albumen and Phosphate of Potash.

In the Brain as in the Battery, a single element become weakened from yesterday's use and lessened activity follows. Therefore, in order to keep a good working brain or add to its power, one absolutely must use food which contains albumen and Phosphate of Potash.

WHY NOT DO A BIT OF THINKING NOW?

Water and albumen exist plentifully in every-day food, but Phosphate of Potash is often lacking.

That missing element exists freely in the outer coating of wheat and barley, but the miller of white bread flour throws it out because it makes his flour brown instead of white.

Grape Nuts

FOOD

Made of choice wheat and malted barley, retains the rich brain-building Phosphate of Potash required by Nature for supporting bright brains and active minds.

Pure! Wholesome! Appetizing! This food is partly pre-digested and quickly absorbed. A morning dish with cream provides FORCE for accomplishment that many a man has come to know and appreciate.

Common Sense goes a long way toward making Success.

To eat right often means to BE right.

NEW YORK AND BOSTON ARE TIED WITH THREE GAMES WON EACH

Joe Wood, No Longer Inevitable, Slaughtered by Giants Yesterday—Red Sox Lost 11 to 4—Mathewson Versus Bedient Will Decide Series Today—Marquard and Wood in Reserve in Case They Are Needed—Gardner and Doyle Made Home Runs Yesterday.

Bullpen Locked With
Boston, Oct. 15.—The New York Giants, pennant winners of the 1907 season, administered a crushing defeat to the Boston Americans yesterday by a score of 11 to 4 in the seventh inning of the world series. The Giants find the Giants and the first base runner to engage in the final combat tomorrow, that will determine which team shall be the world's champion of 1912.

The series now stands: Boston, three games won; New York, three games won; one contest a tie. Sunday Joe Wood, the Red Sox star pitcher, who had already beaten the Giants twice in the first and six games of the series, was called upon to pitch the Red Sox into the world's championship. He was not so swift, however, as he was in the first game, and so he was called upon to pitch the Red Sox into the world's championship.

"OPEN NIGHT" AT Y.M.C.A. LAST EVENING

Gymnasium Exhibition and Basketball Game Witnessed by Large Crowd.

"Open night" at the Y. M. C. A. last evening proved a big success. Last night's festival at the red brick building on May street marked the opening of the fall and winter activity for the year.

The gallery was packed with an increased crowd to watch the gymnastic exhibition. A fine piece of orchestra in the main room downstairs, decorated sweet music throughout the evening.

The "gym" exhibition opened with a display by the junior class under the direction of physical instructor Valentine. The class gave a dumb-bell drill, over forty taking part.

The most interesting feature of the evening was the acrobatic stunt put on by Mr. Rick and his two children, a little girl only a year and a half old, and a three-year-old boy. The children showed marvelous agility for youngsters and the crowd was immensely tickled with the exhibition.

A wrestling bout between H. A. McCormick and E. A. Roe, two members of the wrestling club, was a most interesting feature. The men wrestled to the accompaniment of music. McCormick obtained a fall and the contest was a draw.

Measure, Rick and Allen entertained the crowd with an exhibition of tumbling.

A highly contested basketball game between two teams from the Business Men's club closed up the evening in the gymnasium.

JOHNSON DELAYS IN SIGNING ARTICLES

Bulletin Leased Wire.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—A hitch in the negotiations between Jack Johnson, heavyweight champion of the world, and W. G. B. Kelly, Hugh McIntosh, Australian representative, developed today and delayed the signing of the articles of agreement for the Johnson fight with Sam Langford and Sam McVey in the Antipodes.

The most interesting feature of the evening was the acrobatic stunt put on by Mr. Rick and his two children, a little girl only a year and a half old, and a three-year-old boy. The children showed marvelous agility for youngsters and the crowd was immensely tickled with the exhibition.

DOPE ON THE WORLD'S SERIES

Delving into statistics of the seven games of the world's series played so far, we find a very long list in deciding for the fan the winner of today's game.

In a game of this kind, dope is a very long list to form any opinion, but figures speak for themselves and are always to a certain extent, interesting.

As the seven games played, the Giants have out-hit the Red Sox by 24 hits and from this fact alone it is somewhat of a wonder that the Giants have not clinched the world's championship long ago. Probably the reason that Boston has not been forced to the ropes is because of their brilliant fielding and the pitching of a young man known as "Smoky Joe" Wood, with the help of a good game pitched by the younger, Reddy. These factors have kept the Red Sox on top.

The Giants have the edge on their rivals in hitting and base-running, but the Red Sox have won very strong in the field. McGraw's men have made 45 hits in the seven games for a batting average of .272. The Red Sox trail far behind with 22 hits and an average of .221.

Giants Weak on Defense

The defensive work of the Giants, however, has been woefully deficient. Fourteen errors are charged against the McGrawites. Nine of these were made in two games and since the McGrawites have not clinched the world's championship better ball has been played. The Giants' pitching average is .521, while the Red Sox with only nine hits, have fielded

Steel Screen Base

This familiar sentence, "Devere and Doyle executed a double steal," heard so often during the past season, has been repeated more than once during the present series. The Giant base-runners have been running wild on the bases and have amassed a total of eleven steals, based in the seven games. Devere leads the list with three, while Doyle and Horan have two each. The Red Sox have stolen five times in the seven games.

Hooper and Riall getting two each. Individual batting averages show that Captain Horan and Chief Meyers are showing the way with .400 each, with "Red" Murray and Larry Doyle close behind.

GOOD TURNOUT OF ESKIMOS BUT PLAYERS LACK GINGER

Team Is Not Showing the Form That Characterized Practices Before Tiger Game—Calgary Y.M.C.A. Here Saturday the Deacon's Men Feel Sure of an Easy Victory.

There was only one absentee among the regular squad of the Eskimos last night, but a few of the game were absent. However, there were about 75 men out for the practice, which was an improvement over the state of affairs existing up until that time.

But tonight, on watching the second work tonight there seemed to be something lacking, something which the team must attain before they can hope to go down to Winnipeg and battle for the western championship.

While every man was on the job but one (and he was absolutely unable to present), the practice was not of a satisfactory nature to the coaches, coaches, and apparently to the men.

There was a certain sluggishness in the movement of the men. A sort of "I don't care" attitude was evident. It must be shaken off before the game on Saturday. Some suggest that the team is going stale. The writer differs with this suggestion.

But it looks like business making it difficult to get the Eskimos into the game. Last night's practice was a week that the Eskimos have had this season. No game on Saturday, one or two practices prevented by rain, and the team has been out of the game.

They are talking of going state to talk. And they are talking of going state to talk. And they are talking of going state to talk.

There was more again. If you ask him what he will do, he will say that "Something" will be done. But he will not say what it is.

To beat the Tigers there must be a change in the team. The Eskimos must be brought back to the game. The Eskimos must be brought back to the game.

More interest must be shown. To even win the game on Saturday against the Y. M. C. A. the Eskimos must show more interest.

Championship Material. The Eskimos have shown that they had both Calgary team, outclassed completely, but on Saturday, an equal footing was playing.

FAVORITE GOS DEAD LANE

London, Oct. 14.—A sensation was caused in the betting market today when it was announced that the 5 to 1 favorite for the Carlisle Irish horse, was dead lane and had been scratched. This carried an upset of prices for Wednesday's big long-distance handicap.

Irish Marine, who ten days ago was reported suffering from cracked heels, was according to training reports coming along nicely at light work. His trainer, Davies, gave him a good gallop Saturday and this morning he was dead lane. Immediately before the announcement of the scratching he had been backed at 5 to 1 and other horses figured in the market as follows: Balaclava, 4 to 1; Mashroom, 10 to 1; Favourite, 10 to 1; Balaclava, 10 to 1; Balaclava, 10 to 1.

VARIETY CHANGES NAME

Winnipeg, Oct. 14.—It was decided last night that the name of the Variety hockey club be changed to Winnipeg, and under this name the club will be found in the Winnipeg Amateur Hockey association game.

Bill Noble, who presided, said that the chief reason for this change was the necessity of the club to seek players from outside circles, owing to the lack of senior material in the college.

He stated that the committee had visited the intercollegiate association with a view of having the franchise handed over to the new body, but up to this point had not received any definite answer but were given to believe that the answer would be satisfactorily adjusted.

Chloe attempted to change the colors of the club and after some little discussion it was settled that line pants and white sweaters be worn. The design of the new was left in the hands of a committee.
